Eliminating discrimination

The school is aware of its obligations under the Equality Act 2010 and complies with non-discrimination provisions.

Where relevant, our policies include reference to the importance of avoiding discrimination and other prohibited conduct.

Staff and governors are regularly reminded of their responsibilities under the Equality Act – for example, during meetings. Where this has been discussed during a meeting it is recorded in the meeting minutes.

New staff receive training on the Equality Act as part of their induction, and all staff receive refresher training every September.

The school has a designated member of staff for monitoring equality issues, and an equality link governor. They regularly liaise regarding any issues and make senior leaders and governors aware of these as appropriate.

Guiding principles

In fulfilling the legal obligations cited above, we are guided by eight principles:

Principle 1: All learners are of equal value.

We see all learners and potential learners, and their parents and carers, as of equal value:

- whether or not they are disabled
- whatever their ethnicity, culture, national origin or national status
- whatever their gender and gender identity
- whatever their religious or non-religious affiliation or faith background
- whatever their sexual identity
- whatever their age
- whatever their socio-economic group.

Principle 2: We recognise and respect difference.

Treating people equally (Principle 1 above) does not necessarily involve treating them all the same. Our policies, procedures and activities must not discriminate but must nevertheless take account of differences of life- experience, outlook and background, and in the kinds of barrier and disadvantage which people may face.

Principle 3: We foster positive attitudes and relationships, and a shared sense of cohesion and belonging.

We intend that our policies, procedures and activities should promote:

- positive attitudes towards disabled people, good relations between disabled and non-disabled people, and an absence of harassment of disabled people
- positive interaction, good relations and dialogue between groups and communities different from each other in terms of ethnicity, culture, religious affiliation, national origin or national status, and an absence of prejudice-related bullying and incidents
- mutual respect and good relations between all members of our school community.

Principle 4: We observe good equalities practice in staff recruitment, retention and development

We ensure that policies and procedures should benefit all employees and potential employees, for example in recruitment and promotion, and in continuing professional development:

- whether or not they are disabled
- whatever their ethnicity, culture, religious affiliation, national origin or national status
- whatever their gender and sexual identity, and with full respect for legal rights relating to pregnancy, maternity and paternity.

Principle 5: We aim to reduce and remove inequalities and barriers that may already exist

In addition to avoiding or minimising possible negative impacts of our policies, we take opportunities to maximise positive impacts by reducing and removing inequalities and barriers that may already exist.

Principle 6: We consult and involve widely

We engage with a range of groups and individuals to ensure that those who are affected by a policy or activity are consulted and involved in the design of new policies, and in the review of existing ones.

Principle 7: Society as a whole should benefit

We intend that our policies and activities should benefit society as a whole, both locally and nationally, by fostering greater social cohesion, within a system of British Values.

Principle 8: We base our practices on sound evidence

We produce and monitor quantitative and qualitative information about our progress towards greater equality in relation to our equality objectives.

Advancing equality of opportunity

As set out in the DfE guidance on the Equality Act, the school aims to advance equality of opportunity by:

- Removing or minimising disadvantages suffered by people that are connected to a particular characteristic they have (e.g. pupils with disabilities, or gay pupils who are being subjected to homophobic bullying)
- Taking steps to meet the particular needs of people who have a particular characteristic (e.g. enabling Muslim pupils to pray at prescribed times)
- Encouraging people who have a particular characteristic to participate fully in any activities (e.g. encouraging all pupils to be involved in the full range of school societies)

In fulfilling this aspect of the duty, the school will:

- Publish attainment data each academic year showing how pupils with different characteristics are performing (where possible; due to our small pupil numbers, the DfE do not publish our data in order to provide confidentiality for individual pupils)
- Analyse the data referenced above to determine strengths and areas for improvement, implement actions in response and publish this information
- Make evidence available identifying improvements for specific groups (e.g. declines in incidents of homophobic or transphobic bullying)
- Publish further data about any issues associated with particular protected characteristics, identifying any issues which could affect our own pupils

Fostering good relations

The school aims to foster good relations between those who share a protected characteristic and those who do not share it by:

- Promoting tolerance, friendship and understanding of a range of religions and cultures through different aspects of our curriculum. This includes teaching in RE, citizenship and personal, social, health and economic (PSHE) education, but also activities in other curriculum areas. For example, as part of teaching and learning in English/reading, pupils will be introduced to literature from a range of cultures
- Holding assemblies dealing with relevant issues. Pupils will be encouraged to take a lead in such assemblies and we will also invite external speakers to contribute
- Working with our local community. This includes inviting leaders of local faith groups to speak at assemblies, and organising school trips and activities based around the local community
- Encouraging and implementing initiatives to deal with tensions between different groups of pupils within the school. For example, our school council has representatives from different year groups and is formed of pupils from a range of backgrounds. All pupils are encouraged to participate in the school's activities, such as sports clubs. We also work with parents to promote knowledge and understanding of different cultures
- We have developed links with people and groups who have specialist knowledge about particular characteristics, which helps inform and develop our approach

Addressing prejudice and prejudice-related bullying

The school is opposed to all forms of prejudice which give rise to bullying; see Anti-Bullying Policy.

Information and resources

We ensure that the content of this policy is known to all staff and governors and, as appropriate, to all pupils and their parents and carers, through publication on the school website.

All staff and governors have access to a selection of resources which discuss and explain concepts of equality and diversity.

Equality considerations in decision-making

The school ensures it has due regard to equality considerations whenever significant decisions are made.

The school always considers the impact of significant decisions on particular groups. For example, when a school trip or activity is being planned, the school considers whether the trip:

- Cuts across any religious holidays
- Is accessible to pupils with disabilities
- Has equivalent facilities for boys and girls

Staff development and training

We ensure that all staff, including support and administrative staff, receive appropriate training and opportunities for professional development, both as individuals and as groups or teams.

Breaches of the policy

Breaches of this policy will be dealt with in the same ways that breaches of other school policies are dealt with, as determined by the headteacher and governing body.

Monitoring and evaluation

We collect, study and use quantitative and qualitative data relating to the implementation of this policy, and make adjustments as appropriate.

In particular we collect, analyse and use data in relation to achievement, broken down as appropriate according to disabilities and special educational needs; ethnicity, culture, language, religious affiliation, national origin and national status; and gender.

Equality Objectives 2025-2028

Statutory requirements

The equality objectives below address our duties under current equality legislation, up to and including the Equality Act 2010.

Publication and review

This Equality Scheme fulfils statutory requirements under the terms of the relevant legislation. As it is a public document, the school governors publish it by making it available on the school website.

The scheme will be kept under regular review for four years and then replaced in September 2024.

School Context

The following statement outlines the school context relating to ethnicity, religion/belief and socio-economic factors. In examining the school's context, it relates closely to the SEF. It demonstrates the awareness of the governors and community partners of how the school community compares with the wider community, both locally and nationally.

Ethnicity/culture context of the school

Our school population is 100% white British. There are no children from diverse ethnic backgrounds.

Religion/belief context of the school

Our school is a non-denominational that welcomes children from all religions or none.

Socio-economic context of the school

There are currently no children in receipt of a free school meal. 1 child is in receipt of the Pupil Premium. There is 1 LAC attending the school.

Current issues affecting cohesion at school, local and national level

The school operates as a cohesive group. The school plays a central role in promoting cohesiveness in the local area. The school has been aware of the potential for our children to not be exposed to the diversity that exists in the wider Nottinghamshire and UK communities. The school constantly seeks way to improve this area of provision by exposing children to experiences to prepare them for life in modern Britain.

How we conduct equality impact assessment (Evidence)

Evidence is sought from analysing progress data of children and from general observation of school procedures and practices. Policy is then devised in light of evidence gained, resulting in agreement to the equality objectives which are monitored by the school for a three-year period.

Evidence of this process can be found in Governing Body.

How we chose our equality objectives

Our equality objective-setting process has involved gathering evidence from the equality impact assessments in order to choose objectives that will:

- i. promote equality of opportunity for members of identified groups;
- ii. eliminate discrimination, harassment and victimisation, and
- iii. foster good relations between different groups.

Equality Objectives 2025-2028

Objective 1: To improve curriculum provision in order to increase understanding of equity, diversity, inclusion and belonging for all stakeholders including staff, pupils, governors and parents, with a focus on race equality.

Objective 2: To reduce prejudice and increase understanding of equality, diversity and inclusion, fully embedding the understanding of the British Values and the Protected Characteristics across school with staff, pupils and the community.

These objectives will be monitored through measures including;

- Attendance
- Attainment and progress
- Level of participation in extra-curricular activities
- Level of participation in school activities such as assemblies and celebrations.
- Audits of resources in school
